Wall Street Opening Set For To-morrow

New York Stock Exchange Members Get Orders to Be Ready to Resume Business

BANKS IN U.S. NOW OPEN TOTAL 1,348

Deposits at Present Exceed Withdrawals, Secretary of Treasury States

Canadian Press and Associated Press
New York, March 14.—The New York Stock Exchange to-day directed all members to be ready to resume business to-morrow.

Washington, March 14.—William Woodin, Secretary of the United States Treasury, today said bank deposits were exceeding withdrawals generally in the cities where banks were being reopened and that "the era of fear" had completely passed.

He made his statement after reports had come to the Federal Reserve Board of progress toward opening of hundreds of banks in the United States to-day.

At about the same time the Senate banking committee was approving the Robinson bill to allow state banks to borrow from the Federal Reserve, but with the understanding the measure was not to be pressed if it were found present laws met the needs.

OVER 1,000 BANKS REOPEN
At least 1,000 banking institutions throughout the United States reopened for normal business to-day under federal and state licenses. No fewer than 540 reopened yesterday. Many more will resume business to-morrow.

Today's total included Federal Reserve members; state and commercial institutions not members of the reserve; savings banks and private banks. The figure for non-Federal Reserve district—San Francisco—was not available.

In addition to this number resuming normal operation, many other banks were operating under restrictions, pending official approval by state and federal agencies.

DEBTS TOTAL $6,539,728,000

Dominion Statistician Gives Commons Dominion-Provincial-Municipal Figures

Ottawa, March 14.—The total public debt of Canada, including Dominion, provincial and municipal obligations, was placed at $6,539,728,000 by R. H. Coats, Dominion Statistician, in evidence submitted to-day to the banking and commerce committee of the House of Commons. This included debts guaranteed by the Dominion.

The debt was divided as follows by the statistician:
Net debt of Canada, March, 1932, $2,975,846,172.

Guaranteed debt of Canada, March, 1932, principal and interest guaranteed, $784,318,265; interest only guaranteed, $216,207,42.

Gross direct liabilities of the provinces for fiscal years ended in 1932, $1,363,285,444.

Indirect liabilities of provinces, fiscal years ended in 1932, $215,977,011.

Grand total direct liabilities, December 31, 1931, at least $1,589,000,000.

C.N.R. OBLIGATION
The figures did not include the unguaranteed debt of Canada in respect of the Canadian National Railways, which, if added, would increase the obligations of this country by another $306,000,000. The whole session of the committee to-day was occupied in endeavoring to establish the relationship between this unguaranteed debt and the total liabilities of the Dominion Government.

BRITISH POUND IN U.S. SHOWS GAIN

Canadian Press
New York, March 14.—A jump of 3 1/2 cents in the pound sterling was the high spot of to-day's trading on the local foreign exchange market. Sterling opened at $3.83 1/2, compared with Monday's close of $3.81 1/2. The pound closed at $3.85 1/2 in active trading.

The Canadian dollar was weak at the start but finished firm at 63 1/2 cents, 1/2 per cent lower than the previous close. The Dominion's currency commenced the day down 3/4 per cent, at 62c.

DR. MILNE'S CAREER ENDS

Pioneer Medical Man's Associations Here Extend Over Half Century

He Was a Founder of Jubilee Hospital; Prominent in Many Organizations

Dr. G. L. Milne, whose life-span linked the present-day Victoria with the pioneer community of a couple of thousand settlers here over half a century ago, died quietly about 6:30 o'clock yesterday evening at the state hospital near the jail.

He would have been eighty-three years of age next month. He led an active life, had an unusually wide variety of interests and associations besides his professional activities, and continued active and in full possession of his powers and faculties up until near the end. It was only recently that he gave up driving his motor car and keeping up his business contacts down town. Even yesterday he recognized and talked with friends in such a way that no one thought the end near.

Surviving him is his wife, Ellen Catherine, daughter of the late John Kinsman, whom he married in 1882; one sister, Mrs. J. L. Melkie of Port Arthur, Ont.; two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Richard Hall and Mrs. A. S. Ashwell of Victoria; and one brother-in-law, Alderman W. H. Kinsman of Victoria.

FUNERAL THURSDAY
The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the First United Church, with Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson officiating. It will be under Masonic auspices. Interment will be in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Dr. Milne retired from active medical work in 1924 when he relinquished the office of medical officer under the Dominion Department of Health. A few months ago the members of the British Chamber at his next meeting.

The Canadian Chamber is endeavoring to ascertain the opinion of all members of all the Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade throughout Canada on the following question: Whether they support the recommendations of the Duff Commission, favor amalgamation of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National lines or support other forms suggested to relieve the situation.

ASKS CHAMBER TO TAKE VOTE
Railway Situation May Be Subject of Referendum of Chamber Members

The Canadian railway situation may shortly be submitted to the members of the Chamber of Commerce by way of a referendum. A recommendation from the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, that such a poll be taken, will be placed before the directors of the Chamber at their next meeting.

MURDER TRIAL TO START SOON
Trial of Mr. and Mrs. George Lovatt on a charge of murdering Charles A. Coulson is expected to take place before Justice Court at the end of the month.

NEW BASIS FOR RELIEF APRIL 1
Calgary, March 14.—Unless extension of relief is made by the Dominion Government, 7,000 single unemployed men in Alberta will be without aid at the end of March, when the winter relief programme will expire.

Col. G. E. Sanders, Calgary member of the committee to-day was occupied in endeavoring to establish the relationship between this unguaranteed debt and the total liabilities of the Dominion Government.

FORTY DIE IN THEATRE FIRE

Twenty Persons Trampled to Death in Panic in Mexican Audience

Score Killed and Seventy Injured When High Tension Wire Hits Hand Rail

Guadalajara, Mexico, March 14.—Forty-one persons were killed and seventy were gravely injured yesterday evening in a theatre fire in the town of Ahualulco, not far from here.

A high tension wire was short-circuited, causing a fire in the Hidalgo Theatre while a motion picture performance was in progress.

The panic-stricken audience stampeded for the doors and twenty were trampled to death. Twenty others were electrocuted when the wire dropped across a hand rail along the front of the gallery.

Death Mourned Throughout Canada

THE LATE SIR HENRY THORNTON

LOG EXPORT CONTINUES
Opposition Leader Recalls Criticized Shipments Now Extended

While members of the present government had roundly scored the former administration for permitting the export of logs, he noted the policy was being continued, T. D. Pattullo, Opposition Leader, said in the Legislature yesterday.

Speaking on amendments to the Forest Act, Mr. Pattullo said the present Minister of Education's wild speculations were only equalled by those of the Minister of Mines as they charged the former Liberal administration was in collusion with the United States when it permitted the export of raw logs.

Mr. Pattullo believed only in the export of logs when they could not be manufactured here and hoped there was not going to be a policy of wide open exports. He understood 65,000,000 feet of raw logs were shipped to Japan and asked that figures on the total export last year be given to the House.

Mr. Pattullo questioned what had become of the $60,000 forest reserve account. He noted the forest fire fighting fund had been eliminated again. Last year nature had favored British Columbia in this regard with a wet season. He doubted the Lands Minister's figures of less incendiaries and warned of possible heavy losses of timber of the province through the elimination of the fund.

REPORT FORMER CITIZENS SAFE
As wires continue to come through from the earthquake zone in California, safety of more former Victorians is being revealed to relatives here. Among those who have informed members of the family in this city of their escape from injury were:

Mrs. Margaret Watts and her daughter Peggy, daughter and granddaughter of Capt. R. N. Walker, 1933 Crescent Road.

Mrs. E. E. Wootton has received a wire from Hollywood to say that all the members of her family, now resident there, are safe, including Mrs. Agnes Campbell, Rev. Donald Campbell, Miss Jessie Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Mayhew and family, and Miss Wootton.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Townsley, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Crooke of Los Angeles, formerly of Victoria, were unhurt, reports say.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Williamson of Esquimalt have received two wires announcing that their eldest daughter, Kathleen, is safe and well in Los Angeles.

Mrs. W. C. Housley, 1189 Yates Street, yesterday evening received a telegram from her mother, Mrs. John Blach, and brother Stanley who were in the Los Angeles earthquake area, assuring her of their safety.

BEER VOTED BY THE U.S. HOUSE
Washington, March 14.—The United States House of Representatives passed the beer bill to-day.

The House had taken up consideration of the Cullen bill under unanimous consent, with a view to a vote after a few hours of debate and under procedure precluding amendments.

Hitler Government Silences Newspapers
the Nazis, at least nine papers were stopped to-day.

These included newspapers in Cologne, Bonn, Oppeln and Coesfeld. Mayor Audenauer of Cologne, who is also president of the Prussian State Council, and mayors of Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Mannheim, Brunswick, Altona, Kiel and numerous other towns were removed from office and arrested or escaped by flight yesterday.

Lady Thornton With Him at the End

Death Closes Notable Career in Canada and Great Britain, Embracing Also Service in War

Canadian Press
New York, March 14.—Sir Henry Thornton, K.B.E., former president of the Canadian National Railways, died in the Doctors' Hospital here to-day at 2:45 this afternoon.

Sir Henry, sixty-two years of age, succumbed to complications of pneumonia and uremic poisoning following an abdominal operation.

TRAVELED OF LATE
Since his retirement from the Canadian National last summer he had vainly sought health in traveling in the Maritime Provinces and the Southwestern States. It was on his return from Cuba he was forced to take to bed for an operation. Dr. J. J. Moorhead and Dr. P. J. Edwin undertook the case, but their patient, worn with forty years of active life and great responsibilities, was unable to combat ensuing complications. Yesterday evening he became unconscious and remained in that state until his death.

Sir Henry had been living at Lady Thornton's residence, 5 West First Street, Lady Thornton and her father, C. D. Wetmore, and Sir Henry's son, by his first marriage, were in continual attendance on him during the final stages of his illness.

Major-General Sir Henry Worth Thornton, K.B.E., was one of the outstanding figures in Canadian railroad history. To him fell the task of uniting the several lines which were brought together in the Canadian National Railways. He was appointed president and chairman of the board of directors in 1922 and served in that post until his resignation in July, 1923.

The early years of his work with the great Canadian transportation system were devoted to bringing about improvement in personnel and equipment.

U.S. TO JOIN DISCUSSION
Will Participate in Conference of League on Far East, But Declines to Be Bound

Associated Press
Washington, March 14.—An important decision of the new Roosevelt administration, finding the United States refusing to be bound by any action that is taken, but agreeing to join League of Nations members in a discussion of what the world should do about Japanese military incursions in Northern China.

The State Department disclosed today that Hugh R. Wilson, Minister to Switzerland, had been named to sit at the council table with the League's special advisory committee on the undeclared war in the Far East and to participate in its work, with two important reservations.

The United States, a non-member of the League, will not vote. It will not agree in advance to bow to the committee's decisions, which might call for an economic boycott or other coercive measures.

President of the United States in this manner in the meetings of the committee will give an informative contact, said the department in making its acceptance of the League's invitation to "co-operate."

AUSTRIAN NAZIS GIVEN SETBACK
Vienna, March 14.—Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss, who for a week has ruled Austria as a dictator, definitely established himself today as the leading force fighting any attempt toward a Hitler "push" in this country.

He took a firm stand against the Hitlerites for the first time, disavowing the oft-repeated charges of "Hitlerism" that he and his Christian Social Party had been flirting with the Nazis and their ideas such as union with Germany.

MOVIE SALARY CUT ANNOUNCED
Higher Paid Hollywood Employees to Take Fifty Per Cent Reduction in Pay

Associated Press
Hollywood, Cal., March 14.—A new pay adjustment agreement opened the way for resumption of activities at motion picture studios here to-day after yesterday's shutdown.

The new plan places the bulk of the salary reduction on the highly paid workers and exempts minor employees.

Employees drawing more than $100 a week will take a 50 per cent cut. Those drawing between $75 and $100 weekly will be reduced 35 per cent.

The "high bracket" employees were given the option of accepting the cut or working four weeks without pay. Satisfaction of the players with the arrangement was expressed at a mass meeting here last evening.

New Jury Sworn in Due to Illness of One Juror Yesterday

Because John Homer, a juror, was taken ill at the end of the first session of the trial, Chief Justice Morrison to-day had to order a complete new jury and start from the beginning again of the trial of Ernest Eve, automobile dealer, charged with arson.

The same three witnesses who were called yesterday returned to the stand to-day and repeated their testimony under examination by Prosecutor H. W. R. Moore, led by H. A. Maclean, K.C., and Gordon A. Cameron, who are conducting the defence.

IN ALBERTA

Edmonton, March 14.—Officials of the city of Calgary, who visited here yesterday, requested the Alberta government to finance 15 per cent of the proposed $1,000,000 work programme.

Mayor Andy Davidson, City Solicitor W. Brockington, K.C., and Alderman S. Savage interviewed Premier Rowley. It was understood the province would be asked to contribute to the city's scheme in the same basis as the Alberta government.

The scheme calls for an initial loan of $100,000 in scrip, on which bonds would be placed by the workers, and when fifty-two were placed in one certificate, it would be handed in for redemption.

MEIGHEN'S SPEECH

Ottawa, March 14.—Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, government party leader in the Senate, was "expressing his personal views" when he addressed the Quebec Canadian Club on the currency question, Premier Bennett informed the Commons yesterday afternoon.

Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Liberal, Vancouver Centre, asked in the House if Mr. Meighen was expressing "the authorized view of the government" when he said "we must increase the basis of currency so that an increase in currency itself may take place. We must also devise some means of getting that currency into the hands of those who are effectively controlling it."

The right honorable leader of the Senate was addressing the Canadian Club at Quebec, said Mr. Bennett. He was expressing his personal views. He was not dealing with Canada but with countries of the world as a whole.

Counsel For Massachusetts
Trust Company Says U.S.
Gold Tendered By City
Will Not Be Accepted;
Canada Has Export Ban

Canadian Press
Calgary, March 14.—The Malden Trust Company of Malden, Mass., today refused to accept the $5,783 in United States gold coin tendered by Calgary in payment of city debentures held by the trust firm, and which matured January 1, 1933.

A. L. Smith, K.C., solicitor for the United States company, said his clients would issue a writ for damages against the city of Calgary. The city would have fifteen days in which to file its defence.

The gold was secured by Calgary from the Dominion Government to meet payment of the bonds after the trust company had threatened court action unless payment was made in United States funds.

The city handed the gold coin to Malden solicitors, but it was refused because of the export ban on gold from Canada, making it impossible to transfer the money to the United States office of the firm unless a special license was secured.

VANCOUVER TEST
SET FOR FRIDAYMayor Taylor's Application
For Registration of Lot Adjourned By Judge

Canadian Press
Vancouver, March 14.—Mayor Louis D. Taylor's application for an order compelling Registrar of Land Titles A. G. Smith to declare Lot 191 in Hastings Township clear of encumbrance was adjourned until Friday by Mr. Justice Murphy in the British Columbia Supreme Court yesterday.

The judge ordered Mayor Taylor and W. J. Whiteside, K.C., who signed an affidavit relating to a release of the $1,078 judgment of Hans Hansen, to appear for examination.

Mr. Justice Murphy refused to grant an examination on affidavit, instructing that those cited must attend personally.

It might not be necessary to have Hansen appear, the court indicated, on plea of counsel, Ian Shaw, that Hansen was aged seventy-five, blind and crippled and could not be brought to Vancouver from Port Neville except with some difficulty.

RELEASE IN 1914
Mayor Taylor contends the Hansen judgment should not have been registered against his property because of a release granted in 1914. Hansen's argument is that the judgment was not released but merely vacated in order that Mr. Taylor could be a candidate at the civic election at that time.

One of the petitions that filed by A. M. Manson, K.C., M.P.P., counsel for former Chief of Police C. E. Edgett, will be heard by Mr. Justice Murphy next Friday at 10.30 a.m.

ALBERTA HUNTER

Edmonton, March 14.—Northland storms claimed the life of Alfred Wenig, twenty-five-year-old trapper, found dead last Friday in the timber country twenty-five miles north of Athabasca, which is about 125 miles north of Edmonton.

Wenig was hunting moose when a storm overtook him. Tracks showed he had become lost, wandering around one tree until exhausted. Bitter cold caused his death.

The young trapper had left his shack February 28 on the moose-hunting expedition, but the body was not found until last Friday.

Against Unauthorized
Broadcasts in Dakota

Associated Press
Sioux Falls, S.D., March 14.—The Associated Press won the first round in its suit to prevent unauthorized use of its news when Federal Judge James D. Elliott yesterday announced he would grant a temporary injunction restraining station KSOO from broadcasting such dispatches without permission.

In announcing the temporary injunction, Judge Elliott declared a clear cause for action had been shown in the hearing yesterday. He added that the honor of supposing that they were all good cooks, but added that her demonstrations were designed to refresh the skill and interest in cooking, to perhaps add some new dishes to their repertoire and to show them the money and time-saving methods that constant practice had worked out in her model kitchen.

A striking feature was the evident enjoyment of Miss Thompson and her audience. Miss Thompson's charming personality is such as to gain the confidence of her audience and to banish formality.

Two more sessions of the Canadian School of Home Science are to be held in the Royal Victoria Theatre, to-morrow and Thursday afternoons, starting at 2 o'clock. Seat reservations may be secured at the theatre box office.

COOKING SHOW
WELL ATTENDEDDemonstrations of Miss E.
Frances Thompson at Royal Theatre Make Appeal

A large audience of Victoria housewives with a goodly sprinkling of interested menfolk attended the Royal Victoria Theatre this afternoon and were both entertained and instructed by the demonstrations of Miss E. Frances Thompson, director of the Canadian School of Home Science.

Miss Thompson demonstrated the use of modern electric appliances for the home, including General Electric ranges and refrigerators and smaller appliances such as vacuum cleaners and toasters, showing many things that modern electric home servants can do that are not generally known.

The scope of an electric range was shown, as Miss Thompson proceeded with her cookery.

A refrigerator, too, ceases to be merely a place in which to keep things cold. Miss Thompson showed that it can become an active factor in preparing meals, an efficient economizer of food costs and a valuable agent for good health.

Naturally it was the cookery and the recipes that the women at the Royal Victoria Theatre to-day followed with the keenest interest, and many were the questions asked and answered as Miss Thompson and her assistant prepared dish after dish, accompanied by pertinent and witty comment and explanation.

The cookery lesson was not, as Miss Thompson explained, to teach her audience to cook. She did them the honor of supposing that they were all good cooks, but added that her demonstrations were designed to refresh the skill and interest in cooking, to perhaps add some new dishes to their repertoire and to show them the money and time-saving methods that constant practice had worked out in her model kitchen.

 PIONEER CITIZEN

In his eighty-third year, and after having resided in Victoria for more than half a century, Dr. George Lawson Milne passed away at the family home on Dallas Road yesterday evening. Although he had been in failing health for some months, up till a few days ago he retained a lively interest in all that was going on, particularly in public questions.

Born in Scotland in the middle of last century, Dr. Milne came out to Canada when a child, the family first making their home in Grey County, Ontario. After attending the local schools he went to Toronto University and graduated in medicine from that institution in 1880. In the following year he responded to the call of the west and Victoria naturally appealed to him as two of his brothers had already settled in this community, then with a population of about six thousand.

Well equipped to strike out for himself in his chosen profession, Dr. Milne established a practice here and entered actively into the life of the community in every way. It was through his own initiative that the British Columbia Legislature was prevailed upon to pass legislation providing for the creation of a medical council in this province. He was its first registrar and treasurer and held office in the organization for twelve years.

As medical health officer for the city, Dr. Milne's organizing capacity successfully met all the exactions which the smallpox epidemic imposed upon him in 1892. Chinatown, then growing rapidly, presented a problem in the matter of sanitation; but under his administration conditions were rapidly improved. As superintendent of the old French hospital on McClure Street, he was active in the movement which resulted in the building of the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital, and after the amalgamation of the two institutions he was a member of the consulting staff.

His first active participation in public affairs was by way of the school board, and in 1890 he was elected to the Legislature as a member of the opposition, remaining there until 1894. Federal politics claimed him in 1896 and he ran as a candidate with Hon. William Templeman. Although defeated in that election, he had the satisfaction of knowing that the movement of Liberalism was strengthened through the part he took in the election.

In 1904 Dr. Milne joined the Dominion government service as medical officer and immigration agent at this port, filling the dual position until 1920, when he relinquished his immigration duties to become medical officer under the Department of Health, an office he retained until 1924. In these important positions his ability, tact and courtesy won for him an admirable record.

This summary of Dr. Milne's activities should convey some idea of the part he played in the life of the community during his long residence here. Although always a very busy man, he found time to devote practical interest to church activities and to many other organizations. He was an energetic member of the various Scottish societies, while he was prominent in Masonic services.

Dr. Milne was widely esteemed for his many fine personal qualities, his staunch integrity, and sterling citizenship, and he will be greatly missed by this community whose deepest sympathy will go to Mrs. Milne in her bereavement.

HARDLY A GOOD ADVERTISEMENT FOR A NATIONAL GOVERNMENT

Sir Arthur Currie would like to see a national government formed in Canada on similar lines to that which Great Britain elected in 1931. But the Ottawa Citizen does not think the record of the administration at Westminster to date hardly justifies "the merging of parties in Canada." The people of Britain were led to believe a national government had become imperative to prevent the country from going off the gold standard. Mr. MacDonald and Mr. Snowden, indeed, predicted the most dire consequences would follow if the golden fether were not saved—but it was thrown overboard. Our Ottawa contemporary then goes on to cite the facts:

For the purpose of paying debts abroad, new burdens of taxation were imposed upon the British people, additional reductions in purchasing power were imposed; the destitute were subjected to more severe privation. In spite of every British sacrifice, it has become more than ever impossible for the United Kingdom to pay debts in gold to the United States.

At the same time unemployment in Great Britain has increased heavily upon the national government. In a recent speech in the House of Commons, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Neville Chamberlain, held out little prospect of any substantial improvement in living conditions for ten years. Winston Churchill described the prospects under this government as "ghastly." Speaking of the government's apparent reliance on the possibility of results from Ramsey MacDonald's world conference, Lloyd George said, "You may have something before summer or before the conference is over so catastrophic that the nations will be frightened."

If these are the conditions under the dispensation of a national government in Britain, is there any reason to suppose that better results would be obtained in Canada by following the same course? What this Dominion needs, as The Citizen quite properly suggests, "is a new national policy, to reverse the policy of retrenchment, to put more money into the pockets of the Canadian people as consumers; particularly to allow the steady, law-abiding, industrious Canadian workers to provide for themselves from Canadian sources."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT LOOKING TO BEER FOR REVENUE

It is predicted in Washington that in the very early future, thirsty citizens of the United States will be able to buy a "schooner" of real beer, without having to use a password or mysterious taps, and consume it in peace. President Roosevelt sent a seventy-two-word message to Congress yesterday recommending the passage of legislation "for the immediate modification of the Volstead Act, in order to legalize the manufacture and sale of beer and other beverages of such alcoholic content as is permissible under the Constitution, and to provide through such manufacture and sale, by substantial taxes, a proper and much-needed revenue for the government." Mr. Roosevelt wound up his message with the statement that he deemed action at this time "to be of the highest importance."

The measure requested by the President already is before the House of Representatives—where all revenue measures must originate—and it provides for the manufacture of beer of 3.2 per cent alcoholic content by weight or four per cent by volume. Beer of this strength would be about seven per cent proof spirit, or approximately one per cent weaker than our local beverage. The strength of the beer at present permitted under the Constitution is about one per cent proof spirit; it is dignified by the name of "near-beer."

By straw vote and by their choice of a new government the general public decided that they favored a change in the liquor laws. "Near-beer" never was popular; but Mr. Roosevelt personally is not so much interested in the strength of the beer he has asked Congress to legalize as he is in the revenue the treasury could obtain by the tax it would impose upon its manufacture and sale. He is looking for an annual return of about $150,000,000.

It should be noted, incidentally, that President Roosevelt takes the view that the Constitution is not violated by an amendment to the Volstead Act which merely determines the alcoholic content of beer. But in the matter of wines and spirits, the Eighteenth Amendment would have to be repealed entirely, which requires the sanction of a majority of two-thirds of Congress and approval of thirty-six of the forty-eight states.

Canadian breweries are interested in the new measure at Washington because they are hoping to ship large quantities of beer while the United States breweries are getting their plants in operation—although the present developments have been anticipated. The Canadian embargo on liquor shipments to the United States, as applied to beer, would be automatically lifted when manufacture and sale are legalized by Congress.

CHANCELLOR HITLER FOLLOWING MUSSOLINI'S EARLY EXAMPLE

Hitler's policy in Germany already resembles the policy of "suppression" which Mussolini followed in the early days of his regime in Italy. To-day's dispatches from Berlin report the banning of many prominent Catholic newspapers in the Rhineland and other parts of western Germany. The entire Socialist press in the state of Hesse has been put out of business. The mayors of several towns have been removed from office and arrested; others escaped by flight yesterday. The special drive by the Nazi authorities in the Rhineland is the reply to the Catholic Centralists who held their own in Sunday's municipal elections. Evidently opposition to the present government in any form will not be tolerated.

The Nazi Chancellor no doubt will experiment with all the ploys in his platform and stop at nothing to give them a chance to operate. Nor can the fact be ignored that at the Reichstag and Prussian Diet elections he and his Junker allies obtained sufficient endorsement to encourage them. Sunday's municipal and communal elections went practically the same way. But there still remains a vast and intelligent element throughout the country which will not tolerate an absolute Nazi dictatorship indefinitely. It will probably remain more or less inarticulate while the Hitler forces are somewhat inebriated with victory and in an aggressively "suppressive" frame of mind. Anti-Nazis no doubt remember what happened to the more violent oppositionists in Italy.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

EMPIRE TRADE AND TRANSPORTATION
 The St. John Telegraph-Journal

Steady and sometimes disheartening efforts to obtain recognition of the ports on the Canadian Atlantic Coast are apparently bearing fruit. Advantages obtained must not be snatched from us now. The use of these ports in the Maritimes must be written permanently into a national transportation policy working in conjunction with the imperial preference policy.

TOO BUSY
 Abraham Lincoln

"If I were trying to read, much less answer all the attacks made on me, this shop might well be closed for any other business. I do the best I know how, the very best I can; and I mean to keep on doing it to the end. If the end brings me out all right, what is said against me will not amount to anything. If the end brings me out all wrong, ten angels swearing I was right would make no difference."

INCOME TAX
 The Sherbrooke Record

At first sight an income tax appears very plausible. Look carefully into it and it will be seen that it cannot possibly be collected without gross wrong. It is a tax which bears heavily on all honest men and women who honestly declare the amount of their income, whilst knaves often get off by a law or a false oath. It causes persons in sinking circumstances to pretend to income they have not, in order to sustain their credit, and finally to pay their tax out of the property of their creditors.

Loose Ends

The swelling of buds—and the burgeoning of new parties—turn our thoughts towards home—and in this humor we work fast—Dr. Alward speaks well—and Mr. Pattullo makes a pronouncement.

By H. B. W.

SPRING SIGNS

THERE was a new zest about the House as it came back to work after the week-end—a feeling that we ought to get it all over with as soon as possible and go home. Possibly this feeling may have been connected, and not remotely, with two natural phenomena which the week-end had brought forth: that is to say, the sudden advent of spring and the rather more spectacular emergence of the of the Bowser Party, like a spring bloom, pushing suddenly out of the ground. One filled the air with a new sweetness and a warm glow, which made every honorable member think of home and garden. The other filled it with rumor and uncertainty, chilled many a statesmanlike heart with bitter cold and made everybody think that he ought to be back in his own constituency mending political fences, now badly out of repair.

In this atmosphere of mingled warmth and chill, the House made good progress, hurriedly buried the debate on the Speech From the Throne, which had been quite dead for a week, pushed much legislation ahead a stage or two, and got from Mr. Pattullo a highly important pronouncement of Liberal policy.

Dr. Alward of Fort George wound up the debate and made a clean-cut job of it. The doctor speaks rather too quietly, but with facility, good choice of words and clarity of thought. Besides, he has ideas, a useful commodity about here and of which there is no over-production, and he seems to have studied deeply.

OLD STORY

AFTER endorsing the union government idea, and pledging himself to support a union of all the people if it could be formed, Dr. Alward turned to his old friend, the P.G.E. Every member from Prince George, of course turns to the P.G.E. Unless he does he had better not turn home again. This time Dr. Alward had some interesting facts to support his demand that the P.G.E. be extended to his city. He admitted that the provincial government was not to blame, but he felt that a mistake had been made in spending huge sums for direct unemployment relief, when the money could have been used to extend the P.G.E. So far, he said, we had spent $17,000,000 on unemployment and this money, used on the railway, would have taken it a long way, would have given us a real asset, instead of demoralizing our people with doles.

It was on economics and currency that he was most interesting. Dr. Alward talked economics and inflation to us when he first came here and when no one would listen. Now the House listened carefully to his argument in favor of inflation of Canadian currency to the level of the British pound, not only to make money easier here, but to enable Canadian goods to compete with goods from such places as Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, which have left the gold standard and profited greatly as a result.

With a neat calculation, the doctor showed that on Canada's interest payments to the United States, of $150,000,000 a year, our cost of exchange was about $25,000,000. If we reduced our dollar to the value of sixty-five United States cents, the exchange cost would be around $50,000,000. That would mean an extra annual charge on every Canadian taxpayer of $10—a small price to pay if it would restore the taxpayer's earning capacity to even half of what it was before the war. Indeed, the price might be far smaller.

IT'S COMING

AFTER the debate had been quietly laid away, without even the ceremony of a division, Mr. Jones moved these ponderous resolutions which mean, in plain English, that the budget will be down Wednesday. At that time, said Mr. Jones, the House would consider granting supply to His Majesty, and there was a touch of emotion in his voice. He further moved that the House consider means of raising the said supply. This, one gathered, was a more ticklish business.

We went on then with Mr. Carson's plan to scale down interest on government borrowings all over Canada and it was here, on a very dull day, in a half-empty House, that we received Mr. Pattullo's pronouncement of policy. Mr. Pattullo would go further than Mr. Carson. He would not wait for the federal government to scale down interest if the federal government were unwilling. Rather than scrap all public services in the interest of bondholders and reduce the province to chaos, Mr. Pattullo would open negotiations with the bondholders and tell them frankly that we can't go on as we have been doing, that the load is too great to be borne.

Otherwise—and Mr. Pattullo had extracted most appalling figures from the official reports which Mr. Jones apparently had overlooked entirely, like a current deficit of $5,000,000—otherwise, Mr. Pattullo saw nothing for it but repudiation. He was extremely frank about it, exceedingly brief, and quite unemotional. Most of the House did not realize that there was a declaration of Liberal Party policy more important than any heard in recent times and unquestionably the ground-work of the next Liberal election campaign.

More than that, Mr. Pattullo's remarks on this and other business of the day, showed another sharp cleavage from orthodox financial policy, from the theory that we can save ourselves by dismaying help, reducing salaries and eliminating public services. At the present rate, he said, all of us would soon be on government doles. No one would be left at work.

SOMERSAULT

IN A FEW MINUTES Mr. Pattullo was at it again, this time to discuss his own legislative baby, the Forest Act, perhaps the genial atmosphere of spring, or the pleasant aroma of the Bowser movement had made Mr. Pattullo feel neighborly. He was exceedingly mild, hardly gloated at all over the government's obvious somersault in connection with raw timber exports. He recalled with unexpected brevity and good humor the fact that the present government, then in opposition, had assailed him year after year, had hounded him on every public platform, for allowing the export of logs. Now it was doing the same thing itself, on a far greater scale. And history was quite reversed, when Mr. Pattullo appeared as the opponent of too much log export, of any export except as an incident to logging operations, and the government appeared with a bill to allow itself complete discretion in this regard.

The world, Mr. Pattullo observed, had gone on for some time, even before a government had come along to help it. Probably it would go on for some time even after the Tolmie government could help it no longer. He suggested, therefore, that we save our forests, and for this reason regretted the suspension of forest reserve funds and the government's decision to provide no vote for forest fire fighting.

Noting a reference to the export of hog fuel, Mr. Pattullo looked over his glasses to Mr. McKenzie and recalled that his old friend had not known what hog fuel meant a few years ago in opposition. Indeed, to imagine that the mention of it had some personal application—a not too subtle touch which Mr. McKenzie presently acknowledged.

It was on a bill to compel governments to call on and open public works tenders publicly that Mr. McKenzie took occasion to remind his old friend Mr. Pattullo that the Liberal government had not always behaved in this virtuous fashion; whereas the present ministry had opened all its tenders publicly to the satisfaction of everyone. Everyone, that was to say, but the fellows who wanted to get something out of the government, and Mr. McKenzie concluded with the glamorous assertion that the Tolmie government had suffered from just such honorable policies—it had not been wicked enough, and kind enough to its political friends.

Mr. Pattullo agreed with the new public works legislation, if not with the virtue of the government, and we quit early after another exceedingly dull, businesslike day.

AUSTRALIANS INVENTED IT

To the Editor:—In the current issue of the Times appears the following caption: "Woman Claims Tank Invention." This good lady claims to have begun this invention in January, 1918.

It may be news to a good many people that the credit for inventing the first actual working model of a tank belongs to two Australians.

These Australian inventors brought their tank model to London during 1912. The official report of this tank model stated that it was better in some features than the tank used in the war.

VICTORIA CITIZENS' UNEMPLOYED RELIEF FUND

To the Editor:—In June, 1931, the Victoria Citizens' Unemployed Relief Fund was organized for the purpose of establishing a relief fund, to provide clothing and other requirements in cases of necessity which were likely to arise "during the coming winter." It was proposed to raise $250,000 but only about $50,000 was donated. Some prominent names contributed substantially but it is not generally known that about 1,500 people subscribed to the fund—much of the amount consisting of small donations from poorly paid workers.

Should not this fund have been all spent long ago to relieve distress and suffering? The fund still has about $25,000 in the bank and it is sparingly handed out.

To-day there are many cases of families on direct relief in Victoria who have no decent clothes, beds, stoves, etc., and who are consequently living in abject misery. Why has not this Citizens' Relief Fund been actively working ago to supplement the admittedly meagre government and city relief? Why is it that this fund requires five paid workers to administer it and yet its chief effort seems to be to conserve it? What $40,000 for a wealthy city like Victoria! There are many millions in our savings banks and yet nearly half of this fund raised in 1931 is being carefully guarded when hundreds are urgently in need of the more decent life.

ESQUIMALT TO REDUCE WAGES

Cut in Salaries of Municipal Employees to Go Into Effect in April

Salaried employees of Esquimalt Municipality will take another 5 per cent cut, starting in April. It was decided by the council of that district yesterday evening. The reduction will bring the total cut from August, 1931, to 15 per cent.

No change will be made in the wages paid day laborers, who will be operating on a part time basis, nor the municipal stenographer.

During the meeting yesterday evening the council received a cheque for $100 from the Esquimalt Citizens' Relief Fund for Bullen's Park. This money was raised by an entertainment given by the Esquimalt Citizens' Relief Fund at the Esquimalt Theatre under the auspices of the Esquimalt Citizens' Relief Fund. The fund is a voluntary organization, the cost being secured through subscription. Expressions of appreciation will be sent to the council by the Esquimalt Citizens' Relief Fund.

An appeal from the Esquimalt Golf Club for a reduction of the assessment was refused on the grounds the club had been given a low assessment by by-law some years ago. It could not be changed, the council said.

Ambushment was made by the provincial government's engineer would inspect the Gorge bridge at the request of Esquimalt and Saanich Councils at a date to be set by them.

Delegates to the Union of British Columbia Municipalities Convention submitted reports, which were received and filed.

when we pulled into the city aboard the old Premier, from Vancouver," he recalled. "The boat was several hours late because the Victoria rugby team had been over to Vancouver and wiped the mainlanders up plenty, so they celebrated in proper fashion and the boat was held for them."

The mayor was a young man at the time. He was accompanied by his father and his brother, Thomas H. Leeming.

Mr. Leeming's introduction to Victoria was not as the land of sunshine and flowers. It was the year of the biggest snowfall on record here, with about seven feet on the ground. The mayor, his father and brother, stayed for a month at the Dominion Hotel as guests of the present proprietor's father and mother. Later they went to Gordon Head and started fruit and strawberry farming.

Looking over The Times files for March 14, 1893, an item appears which may bring comfort to the present mayor in this time of stress.

"The meeting of the unemployed in the city hall last evening was attended by nearly 300 men, many of whom, as a matter of course, did not come under the description of 'unemployed.'"

MEMBER BACKS UNION POLICY

Never More Need For Unity,
Says Dr. Alward

Debate on Speech From Throne Concluded Yesterday

Support of plans for a union government for British Columbia was offered by Dr. R. W. Alward, Conservative, Fort George, in a speech which closed the debate on the Speech from the Throne yesterday.

He referred to union governments at the time of Confederation and during the Great War and said never had there been a time when it was more essential than it was now for a united effort. In his opinion the majority of the people thought a union government was desirable—a union not only of parties but of the people was in the best interests of the country. An active interest in governmental administration was in evidence to a greater extent than ever before.

UNEMPLOYMENT
The member thought the government could be complimented on the way it had handled the unemployment problem. Any criticism of the work camps in his district could easily be repudiated. In this connection the member repeated former arguments he had advanced for the completion of the P.C.E. He was strongly in favor of putting unemployed on productive work rather than paying out money in relief without return. He thought every effort should be directed to placing those now idle on work which would help the province.

"Why doesn't my honorable friend come over on this side of the House?" asked T. D. Pattullo, opposition leader. Imperial conference preference was referred to the speaker commenting the tariff preferences granted were largely nullified by exchange differences. He thought Canada would benefit if it put the dollar on a par with sterling. It would cost Canada $25,000,000 a year but the benefits to be reaped would justify it, he thought. Changes in the Placer Act and the Security Frauds Prevention Act were suggested by the speaker, remarking the Cariboo had been rediscovered and miners claimed the latter act was hampering the progress of the mining industry.

OPEN TENDERS IN PUBLIC

Both Sides in Legislature
Support Amendment to Public Works Bill

Support from both sides of the House was given yesterday to an amendment to the Public Works Act, introduced by Hon. R. H. Bruhn, calling for advertised tenders to be opened in public.

Hon. W. McKenzie, Minister of Mines; T. D. Pattullo, opposition leader; G. Walkem, Conservative, Vancouver, and Wells Gray, Liberal, New Westminster, spoke in favor of the amendment.

Mr. Walkem thought the government might be making a virtue of necessity. The bill had been brought in as the result of scores of requests. British Columbia was the last place where tenders were not open to the public. He hoped no means would be found in the future to circumvent the wide provisions of the bill.

Ladysmith

Twenty tables were in play at the Native Sons' weekly whist drive and dance, held on Saturday evening in the Native Sons' Hall. Prize winners were: Miss Florence Jones, Mrs. J. Hulme, J. Halme and T. Thomson. The door prizes were won by F. Spentito and Mrs. K. K. Reid.

R. Dume of Vancouver spent the week-end here with his parents. W. Dow will spend several weeks in Vancouver.

Edmonton, March 14. (Canadian Press)—Establishment of a department of industries to aid the mining industry was suggested in the Alberta Legislature yesterday by F. C. Moyer, Independent, Drumheller. Mr. Moyer said the Legislature last year had adopted a resolution to this effect and he asked that it be implemented. The coal industry, Mr. Moyer thought, was entitled to some consideration as it was the second largest in the province, ranking next to agriculture.

What I Learned Shopping at KRESGE'S

by Frances Thompson

Director, Canadian School of Home Science

at Royal Victoria Theatre, Tomorrow and Thursday Afternoons

"ALL the small kitchen accessories we use in the Cooking School are bought from Kresge's—enamelware, glassware, hardware, kitchenware . . . a wonderful variety of useful little things. In fact, glancing over their stock, I'm quite sure Kresge's could supply your kitchen needs—at a big saving!"

"Have you ever shopped at Kresge's? It's such fun! After I arrive in each city where the School is scheduled, one of the first things I do is to visit Kresge's, and replenish my supply of kitchen wares. And it's so easy, for these reasons. First—each store carries thousands of different articles of merchandise.

So you are always certain of getting just what you want. Second—the department system enables you to shop without losing time or patience. And third, salespeople are so helpful and friendly.

"Of course, the main reason why women should patronize Kresge's is economy! You simply can't imagine such bargains in little things . . . and remember, it's the little things that count!"

Look over your list of necessities and check off the smaller articles that usually take so much of your shopping time. Then visit Kresge's . . . for convenience . . . high quality of goods . . . and value!"

JURORS TO LOSE DOLLAR A DAY

Attorney-General Drafts Bill to Reduce Allowances

Says Abolition of Grand Jury
System Proved a Success

Jurors in British Columbia will receive $3 a day instead of $4 under an amendment to the Jury Act introduced in the Legislature yesterday by Attorney-General Pooley.

At the same time Mr. Pooley mentioned the abolition of the grand jury system effected last session. "It had saved the province thousands of dollars in jury and witness fees, he said, and no one had hardly noticed they had been abolished. In New Westminster a saving of $2,000 had been effected.

A. M. Manson, K.C., drew attention to the loose way some sheriffs selected jurors and asked if greater care could not be taken in the selection of special juries and was asked to make representations to the Attorney-General. Mr. Pooley commented that sufficient time had not elapsed to prove whether the abolition of the grand jury had been a success. He could conceive a situation which might arise where a grand jury would be misled.

Amendments to the Attachments of Debts Act introduced by Mr. Pooley made substitute service possible where only personal service is permitted at present.

Amendments to the Law Declaratory Act were aimed to clear the position of a mortgagor on paying off a mortgage.

Amendments to the County Court Act, introduced by Mr. Pooley, permitted a judge to vary a committal order when circumstances warrant it. Amendment to the Hareness Act, introduced by Thomas Uphill, Labor, Fernie, raised the fee for an examination from $5 to $10. The bill was given second reading.

FINE CONCERT AIDED MISSIONS

Special to The Times
Duncan, March 14.—The "Twilight Recital" arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Nash, for the benefit of the United Church Missionary Society, proved an outstanding success, the Knights of Pythias hall being packed to the doors on Sunday.

Smyth Humphreys, of Victoria, violinist, offered many selections, the vocal soloists being Mrs. A. Beasley, Mrs. Macdonald of Nanaimo, A. Robinson, A. Gard and F. Bradshaw.

Three anthems were rendered by a choir consisting of Mesdames Beasley, Matthews, Macdonald, W. Dobson and Nash, the Misses D. Baker, M. McEwan, M. Galloway, M. Savage, U. Fawcett and H. Hubby, Messrs. A. Robinson, F. G. Aldersey, Fleetwood, A. Gard and B. Gamble. Mr. Nash conducted and Rev. W. F. Burns pronounced the benediction on Sunday.

Manitoba's metal production in 1932 had a value of approximately $8,354,000, an increase of about one and quarter million dollars over 1931.

NEW YORK LIFE HAS BIG YEAR

Paid Out $255,200,000 in 1932, Company's Statement Shows

Thomas A. Buckner, president of the New York Life Insurance Company, commenting on the company's annual statement, published in this paper, stated that 1932 was one of the most noteworthy years in the company's history since it was organized in 1858. "Though it has been nearly eighty-eight years since the New York Life began business," said Mr. Buckner, "1932 was unquestionably our year of maximum service to policyholders and to beneficiaries was $255,200,000 exceeding by $27,600,000 the largest amount so paid in any previous year. "The income for 1932 was $407,235,908.41 and the company met on demand every contractual obligation from its current cash income without having to sell a single security and without borrowing a dollar from any source. We made new investments amounting to $46,632,000 and closed the year with a larger amount of cash in bank than at any other year-end in the company's history.

The company's balance sheet shows assets of $1,974,078,041.43 and liabilities of $1,860,106,134.44, the excess of assets over liabilities being $113,971,907.99. This amount of unassigned funds, or surplus, is available for unforeseen contingencies. Also, there is a special reserve fund not required by law amounting to $36,620,709.74 and a provisional appropriation for 1933 dividends of $52,099,288. On December 31, cash on hand or in bank amounted to $57,697,624.74 and the company owned $56,000,000 in United States Government bonds and $129,486,343.11 in state, county and municipal bonds. Other assets, as shown in the statement, with the percentage of each item to the total assets.

During the year $531,264,100 of new insurance was paid for and the total of insurance in force at the end of the year was $7,341,592,220.

"Underlying all these figures," said Mr. Buckner, "there is a picture of intense human interest. To each policyholder his New York Life policy has a unique and personal meaning. It appeals to one because he knows that his widow and children are protected; to another it is a provision for old age; to still others it is the means of meeting all the other uses to which life insurance is put. To each one, his policy is one of his most valuable possessions. It helps to alleviate worry, to mitigate fear, and to give a happier outlook on life and its responsibilities. It is a promise for a better future."

DISSATISFIED ON RELIEF RULING

City Maintains Discrimination
Shown in Charge For Administration Costs

Despite an explanation from the government, the City Council is still dissatisfied with the fact that the government pays a portion of single men's relief administration in Vancouver, while Victoria is shouldered with the full cost.

Yesterday evening the council decided to again inform the government it believed discrimination exists in this regard. The government had explained that while there were 10,000 single men on relief in Vancouver, comprising 55 per cent of the total relief list, there were only 530 single men on relief in Victoria or 35 per cent of the total. The absence of a Vancouver remedy required a remedy.

"I don't see why the same principle of paying for transients should not apply all over the province," said Alderman Alex Peden.

"It is another case of taking advantage of Victoria," added Alderman R. T. Williams.

BOND TRADE IS ENDORSED

City Secures Over $170,000 of Its Own Securities For Sinking Funds

More than $170,000 of the city's own bonds will be acquired for sinking funds as the result of two trades authorized by the City Council yesterday evening.

One was an exchange of $15,000 C.N.O.R. 3 1/2 per cent bonds for $15,000 City of Victoria 4 per cent bonds, and the other was $20,000 C.T.P. 3 per cent bonds for $20,000 City of Victoria 4 1/2 per cent bonds.

"I think in doing this the city is putting itself in a strong position. We get a higher interest rate and it gives us a better capital value," commented Mayor Leeming.

The port of Vancouver handled 22,279 bales of raw silk last year, leading all the ports of the Pacific Coast of North America in that respect.

Coal production of Alberta mines for 1932 totaled 4,870,030 tons, an increase of about 300,000 tons over 1931.

LAMP TRIMMER JOB DEBATED

Protest Voiced on City Council's Recent Appointment

The recent appointment by the City Council of a lamp trimmer, which threw out of work a man who had received the job temporarily, was protested by the Canadian Legion in a letter before the council yesterday evening. It was pointed out the temporary employee had been forced to apply for relief after being dismissed.

After a brief debate in which Alderman Alex Peden reiterated his stand against the council's action, it was decided to inform the legion that the appointment had been made according to the proper procedure.

Alderman Peden, in reference to "native son" qualifications for the appointment, said the community should not be split into nationalities in the matter of giving jobs. Moreover, he said, the council had disregarded its departmental heads in the appointment, contrary to the policy of the new comptroller's by-law, which might just as well be torn up if this sort of thing was continued.

Alderman W. D. Todd pointed out that the "native son" requirement had not been the only qualification for the position and added that the appointment had been made in the proper manner.

Never Can Tell If Novel Will Succeed

Women's Canadian Club Hears Brilliant Address By Miss Margaret I. Lawrence

Reaction From Mass Experience Makes 'Best Seller', Book Expert Says

Influences which cause the public to rush to buy the "best sellers" among novels are as mysterious as the currents which cause the adoption or rejection of new ideas in women's attire, the Women's Canadian Club was assured yesterday afternoon by Miss Margaret I. Lawrence, in a sparkling address on "The Book Review," given at the Empress Hotel before nearly 300 women.

"Mental styles are quite as important to up-to-date women," said Miss Lawrence, who is literary adviser to The Canadian Home Journal and a member of the book reviewing staff of The Toronto Saturday Night.

The manner the young speaker presented her material was as modern and modish as the books themselves. The discussion of the current books was done with the deft sure touch of the reviewing expert, and was as simple and unassuming as a talk among friends.

Each year had a thought which differentiates it from other years, the speaker told her audience. How it was struck remained one of the great mysteries. It was something far greater in the deep currents of thought, and none could truly or certainly say how it came to be.

Books, Miss Lawrence said, were not consciously published to influence world thought, but a book would not sell unless it answered the need of people at the time it was published.

NEVER CAN TELL

It is very much like the creation of styles, she informed her audience of women. "You would think at first that styles were created for women, but the great stylists, like the big publishers, were always nervous. They never knew whether or not what they had sent out would meet that sympathy and response without which neither a fashion nor a book would go. Both stylists and publishers had found, over and over again, that no amount of thoroughly organized publicity would put a style or a book over to success. A style which would succeed one year would fail the next year, and so it was with books," she stated.

NAME NOT IMPORTANT

The name of an author was not nearly so important as people, even editors, were wont to think, the speaker said. The heart break for authors was that, once having struck this mysterious current, and sailed upon it into the class of the best seller, they so often thought that it would continue. It rarely did, Miss Lawrence said.

The tone of publishing was becoming serious, the speaker was sure. A book such as Anita Loos' "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" would not stand this year. The best seller of the next year was in striking contrast. "The Bridge of San Luis Rey," being perfect with spiritual feeling. The book of 1932 was Charles Morgan's "The Fountain," and following last year's peculiar tone, Miss Lawrence spoke of the first outstanding book of this year 1933, Sinclair Lewis' "Ann Vickers," the study of a woman pursuing a career—alone—in a twisted civilization.

McGill May Be Forced to Close Nursing School

Montreal, March 14 (Canadian Press).—The possibility of closing the school for graduate nurses at McGill University at the end of the present session unless funds are contributed for its upkeep is deplored by local leaders in medicine, public health, social work and nursing.

From my experience with the education of pupil nurses, from my connection with the joint study committee of the Canadian Nurses and the Canadian Medical Associations, from study of Dr. Weir's survey report and from perusal of many authoritative addresses on the subject," stated Dr. A. T. Bazin, chief surgeon of the Montreal General Hospital, "I am convinced that our pupil nurses absolutely require the type of instruction that can be given only by a graduate nurse who has received postgraduate training in a university school for graduate nurses."

"If the McGill school closes—I suppose our graduate nurses can do as they did before, viz. go to some university school in the United States. This to me is very distasteful. In my opinion the best argument in favor of the necessity of continuing the school is the manner in which the alumnae associations and the pupil nurses of many hospitals throughout the country have organized to subsidize over a period of years to assist in maintaining the school. When the nurses themselves are so impressed with the value and usefulness of the school that they will donate money from their meagre savings I think the necessity of the school must be accepted."

St. Patrick's Day, doubtless the greatest occasion for celebration among the Irish world over, will be duly remembered in Victoria on Friday the 17th inst. A typical old-time Irish concert will be held. ## ENTERTAIN AT RELIEF CAMP

Knox Young People Gave Delightful Programme to Unemployed

Thirty-five members from Knox Presbyterian Young People's Society made a trip out to the Otter Point relief camp at Sooke to give a concert Saturday evening.

A very interesting programme, arranged by the president, Miss Louise Patterson, was given. Bill Harkness, the magician, who delighted everyone present with his tricks and magical stunts; little Bobbie McVie, impersonator of Harry Leuder, got many encores. Douglas Cobbett gave a comic song, "Garden City," this being exceptionally well done.

Members of the society presented a short sketch entitled "On the Train to Mauro." Those taking part were Misses Agnes Rose, Agnes Stevenson and James Gibb. Others on the programme included: Soprano solo, "My Wild Irish Rose," Miss Peggy McPhail; soprano solo, "Give Me a Piggy-back," by little Barbara McVie; bass solo, "Friend o' Mine," by A. James.

The accompanists were Misses Rose London, Dorothy McVie and J. Christopher. Rev. J. S. Patterson acted as chairman.

After this everyone joined in a hearty sing-song, led by Mr. James. The members of the society took magazines, etc., for the men, and Mr. Wishart, the superintendent, thanked the society for the enjoyable evening. The men then served delicious refreshments in the dining room. The Lang Syne."

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

It is always hard for a mother to accept changes. Her baby forms a number of good habits the first year, sleeping all morning, taking a nap in the afternoon, and going to bed right after six or seven at night. But when the baby in one year old, things begin to happen. He may still nap beautifully in the daytime, but refuse to go to sleep at the regular hour at night. He may wake up half a dozen times at night. He may re-

Pianist-Suig Store For Damages

Toronto, March 14 (Canadian Press).—Suit for $10,000 damages was begun in Supreme Court yesterday by Clement Hamberg, pianist, against the T. Eaton Company. Hamberg bases his claim on an injury alleged to have been caused by a piano of glass falling on his hand while he was rehearsing in the Eaton Auditorium. Hamberg claims the injury prevented him from giving adequate performances.

Unrevised statistics of Canada's sea fishing operations for 1932 indicate a total yield of about 7,200,000 hundred-weights, or 360,000 tons of fish.

The Man Hunters

By MABEL McELLIOTT
(Copyright by NEA Service)

They swung along Michigan Avenue side by side. The winter wind seemed good after the scented, hothouse atmosphere they had just left. Bob, glancing sidelong at the fine profile, applauded Susan's taste.

"Do you mind if I stop in to-morrow morning to look at those things?" Bob asked him at parting. "About eleven?"

"Not at all. That will be splendid," Waring told him heartily. As he went back to the hotel where he lived he felt a glow of conscious righteousness.

"It was a Boy Scout before," he reflected. "Now it looks as though I am going to be a blooming Cupid."

But Bob Dunbar did not come to the office the next day. He telephoned to say that the doctor had diagnosed him as suffering from quinsy, and he would not be allowed to go out for several days at least. Did Waring have Miss Carey's home address? Waring said that he did, and supplied it. The young man seemed grateful.

Waring did not mention the fact that Susan was no longer at the office. He had learned it himself only the morning before. He had explained rather stiffly that Miss Carey's aunt was ill and she would not return for some time, if at all.

"The old man's keeping something back," Waring said to himself. After he had given Susan's address to Dunbar he felt better. The boy would go to see her and everything would be made right.

"I've spoken that young lady's guns all right," he muttered, thinking of Denise. He looked with distaste at the girl who had come from the agency to fill Susan's place. She was tall and thin, with a pink nose and pale blue eyes which looked as if she might have been crying.

"I'll miss that kid," Waring told Person confidentially a few minutes later.

Bob Dunbar, at home, raged and tossed about like a caged lion. Of course he could telephone Susan or write her a letter, but he must see her to do either of these things. There had been misunderstandings enough between them. Bob felt he must see her face to face. What an idiot he had been all along! He must see Susan face to face and then there would be no more of this nonsense.

When Denise telephoned Bob told the Chinese boy to say he was too ill to speak. She must not come over because the sore throat was highly contagious. Bob knew that would stop Denise; she hated any sort of illness.

"We'll see," she said, but he said, throwing back her front, little head arrogantly. Bob's lips curled at the memory. What a fraud she was! Why hadn't he seen through her before?

After several days that had seemed endless the doctor said the young man might go out. Feeling excited and shaken, Bob climbed into a taxi and gave the driver Susan's address. The house, when he reached it, was quite dark. There was no sign of anyone about. Hopefully, he rang the bell.

Uncle Wiggily Flies Low

(By HOWARD R. GARIS)

"Dear me! Where in the world am I going?" asked Uncle Wiggily. Well, might he ask that question, for the rabbit gentleman had lost the string of a kite and was flying up high into the air as the strong north wind blew him.

It had all happened so suddenly that Mr. Longears had no time to let go the kite string before he found himself so high up off the ground that he didn't dare let go and drop.

"If I do I may knock off my pink, twinkling nose," thought Uncle Wiggily as he looked down to the ground now far below him. "And that would be quite too bad. I have only one pink nose," said the rabbit gentleman, "and it would be just too bad to lose it."

So he held on tightly to the kite string in his paws as he went on sailing higher and higher into the air. He was sailing over the woods and over the fields and he had no chance to hop up hill and down hill, for he was in the air, high above the hills around his hollow stump bungalow.

The eagle swooped at him

"Dear me! What a strange thing to have happened to me!" sighed Uncle Wiggily. "I wish I hadn't offered to hold this kite for Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow."

For that's how it all happened. Uncle Wiggily saw the doggie boys flying their kite in the strong, north March wind. And when the school bell rang and the puppies didn't have time to haul down their kite, they asked Mr. Longears if he didn't want to fly it himself a little while. Of course Uncle Wiggily said he did, but he had only been flying it a few minutes before there came such a strong puff of wind that the kite lifted the bunny gentleman high up into the air.

"So he went flying high," thought Mr. Longears as he called along in the air, "to fly low. If I can fly low enough I can get back to the ground and go home to my bungalow. I'll never again fly a kite in a strong wind."

But as he flew on and on, and there seemed no way in which Uncle Wiggily could fly low to get back to earth. He was quite high up.

"But there is one good thing about this, even if it is a lot of trouble," thought Mr. Longears. "None of the Bad Chaps can get me while I am flying high. Neither the Fox, the Wolf nor the Bad Cat has wings and they can't fly up here and nibble me."

Which was true enough. For, as he looked down, Uncle Wiggily saw the three Bad Chaps looking up at him as he sailed along.

"Too bad we haven't wings," yapped the Fox.

"Yes," mewed the Bob Cat. If we had wings we could fly up and get that rabbit in the air. But we haven't wings. "I'm going to get a pair," snarled the Wolf.

"A pair of what?" asked the Bob Cat. "A pair of wings," answered the Wolf.

"Don't be silly!" laughed the Fox. "You can't get wings and if you had them you wouldn't know how to fly."

"You watch me!" snarled the Wolf. "I know where an Eagle has his nest high in a tree. I'm going to ask the Eagle to lend me his wings and then I can fly up and get Uncle Wiggily."

"Say, that will be a good trick!" said the Fox and the Bob Cat.

They went with the Wolf to the Eagle's nest as Uncle Wiggily kept on flying higher and higher.

"What! Lead you my wings!" screamed the Eagle when he heard what the Wolf wanted. "No, indeed! If anybody is going to catch that high flying rabbit I'll do it myself. I'm just as hungry as you are! Ha! Ha!"

The three Bad Chaps slunk away while the Eagle soared out of his nest and began flying after Uncle Wiggily and the kite.

"Oh, now there's going to be more trouble," thought the poor rabbit gentleman as, with a loud scream, the Eagle swooped at him. But just then the wind gave a sudden puff and instead of getting hold of the bunny, the Eagle bit two big holes in the paper kite. And as soon as the holes were made the kite began to drop down, taking Uncle Wiggily with it as he held to the end of the string.

"Oh! On I made a mistake!" screamed the Eagle. "I bit the kite instead of the bunny."

"I'm glad you did," called Uncle Wiggily. "For now I can fly low."

So he began flying lower and lower until he safely reached the ground and before the Eagle could fly down and get him Mr. Longears hopped safely to his bungalow. He didn't take the kite, as it was torn, but he said he would make Jackie and Peetie a new one, which he did. So neither the Eagle nor the three Bad Chaps caught the bunny and I guess we're all glad. And if the radio will play some music for the photograph to dance with the hand organ I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's kite. And I hope you may like the little story.

HALTING COLDS

If you should see a person on a trolley car sneezing without making any effort to cover his nose, you might well ask yourself, "What's wrong with this picture?"

What's wrong with this picture

There is a great deal wrong with such a picture. In the first place, it is a mistake for a person with a cold to go to a place where he may spread germs. The chances are that he would get well more quickly if he remained at home, in bed. From the viewpoint of others, it is too bad that he should go where he may pass on colds to them.

In some cities pupils who come to school with colds are sent home promptly. When this is done, it keeps cold germs from traveling from one pupil to another.

Returning to our picture, we find another thing which is wrong. If a person must sneeze in public, he

$300,000 MARK NOW SURPASSED

Emergency Employment Campaign Stimulates Business, Contractors Report

The Greater Victoria Emergency Employment Campaign this afternoon took another big step towards its objective when pledges reported at campaign headquarters soared past $300,000. The advance was mostly due to scores of small pledges received in the mail, but the field campaign workers having filed reports of yesterday's work at noon to-day.

The campaign has already exerted a valuable influence in building and decorating the city, and a large number of firms report a substantial improvement, especially in the number of inquiries as to the cost of house painting and structural work.

One of the interesting effects is the sudden development of interest in the cost of adding new rooms to homes, and the number of firms reporting inquiries of this nature.

Sanich residents yesterday evening turned out in large numbers to a public meeting held at the Women's Institute Hall, Brentwood, for the purpose of discussing the Greater Victoria Emergency Employment Campaign.

The meeting was presided over by the Sanich Board of Trade, was the principal speaker. He described the effect a successful campaign would exert in promoting circulation of money and increased employment, and appealed for united action by all Sanich residents.

The meeting unanimously endorsed the campaign, and a large number of pledges were turned in at the conclusion of the meeting.

Letter Tells Of Earthquake

Fred Wormald of Victoria Gives Graphic Description of Los Angeles Earthquake

A graphic description of the great earthquake which shook the Los Angeles area Friday night, with great loss of life and damage to property, was contained in a letter received in Victoria this morning by Mrs. C. E. L. Wormald of 1030 Broughton Street, from her son Fred, who is visiting in Los Angeles with his sister, Mrs. Richard Campbell. Mr. Wormald's letter is one of the first to be received in this city since the quake. It came north by airmail.

"I was sitting down in the living room when the first rumbling came," the letter says in part. "The lights went out—the house positively swayed. I could hardly stand. The lamps swayed and almost fell. Many of the houses were cracked and in places had no idea where the quake was, as all the power was off. We used candles. Eventually—the lights went up a little, and there was sufficient power for the radio to function. We listened to the Los Angeles police calls to the radio cars."

The letter was written within an hour of the first shock. "The police are warning us to stay in our home," the letter added. "There is great danger of the gas tank at Seventh and Alexander exploding. If that went Los Angeles would have a second Halifax disaster."

"Here's the radio again, and another quake. Goodness, I'm excited. I only heard part of the radio broadcast—we had to go outside. There is the shattering quake in fifteen years. Western and southern Los Angeles is shattering. There is no communication to the beach towns. So far (and little less than an hour has passed since the first shock) there have been at least 100 deaths, thousands injured and 400 seriously injured, in Long Beach. The U.S. fleet, now situated off the Coast, has been notified. Marines will come ashore. Martial law has been proclaimed. We are warned to stay away from all stricken areas. The house is shaking again. Now, it's stopping."

MUNICIPALITIES APPEALS HEARD

Union Convention Resolutions Before Committee of Legislature

Committee Frowns on Application For Right to Sell Gasoline

With a representative delegation of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities present the municipal committee of the B.C. Legislature this morning commenced consideration of the resolutions passed by the union at the Nelson convention last June and the recent convention in Victoria.

The recommendation for a referendum as to whether aldermen and councillors shall sit for one year or two years was recommended for registration and will be considered later.

Three resolutions on the poll tax will be considered later. One sought an amendment to the act to make the tax apply to all male persons over eighteen years of age and all wage-earning females over that age. Another called for employers to supply a list of their employees to poll tax collectors, and a third called for a poll tax on every person in a municipality not liable for taxes on real property.

Consideration will be given a recommendation that the act be amended so that the tax be levied on the basis of the value of the property or the value of the business. A resolution on the subject of the right of municipalities to levy a tax on the sale of land and to take a mortgage for the balance. It would facilitate disposal of land as some companies did not approve of the agreement of sale basis. R. F. Blandy, Oak Bay clerk, informed the committee. The resolution will be considered later.

Victoria, Sanich and New Westminster delegates were jointly interested in a recommendation regarding the responsibility for care of destitute infants. A resolution on the subject of an infant should be deemed to be long to a municipality if it had resided there one year except when the residence has been on a transient basis. Otherwise the residence shall be where the mother last resided or at the place where the child was committed to an institution.

A resolution was passed by the committee that the B.C. Electric Company be authorized to take a mortgage for the balance. It would facilitate disposal of land as some companies did not approve of the agreement of sale basis. R. F. Blandy, Oak Bay clerk, informed the committee. The resolution will be considered later.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

Congratulations to Frank Shandley and His Beavers
Bruce Humber May Be Developed by U.S.C. This Summer
Lester Patrick Selects His All-star N.H.L. Aggregation

A FEW WORDS of praise are in order at this time to Frank Shandley and his Beavers basketball team, which lifted the Coast Intermediate A men's championship here on Saturday evening. The Beavers won the title by turning back the Columbia Optical five of Vancouver, rated one of the finest teams developed in this division on the mainland for some time. The Beavers deserve plenty of credit. Last year Frank lost the B.C. championship to New Westminster Highway Fur after a heart-breaking final. Still determined to reach the top, Shandley and his boys came back this season to capture the city and island titles in a walk and now with the Coast championship tucked away have only to hurdle the interior titleholders before they can call themselves provincial champions. The finals are drawn for Victoria, so the local champions will have the big edge of playing on their home floor.

The University of Southern California must be hot after sprint honors in the United States this season. Coach Dean Cromwell of the Trojans is said to have developed another "world's fastest human" in James "Red" Abbott, a big, powerfully limbed youngster from Seattle, who is just a freshman. Abbott recently traveled the century in 9.7 seconds in an interclass meet. In addition U.S.C. is said to be seeking Bruce Humber, former Victoria track star, who last season turned in some first-class sprint performances in Seattle meets. The southern university is understood to have invited Humber to continue his studies there.

Cromwell is noted for his production of great sprinters. In the last decade Charley Paddock and Frank Wykoff have been developed by him. Cromwell has turned out others in the persons of Howard Drew, Charles Parsons and Charley Borah. Howard Drew, colored flash, was probably the fastest to have come to achieve national fame under Cromwell. Drew equaled the world record of 9.3 seconds in the 100 yard dash in 1928. He was a star in the 100 and 200 yard dashes and was a member of the U.S. Olympic team. He is big and strong enough to handle any under all sorts of strenuous training at the hands of the wise old coach.

The other day in New York, Lester Patrick, president and coach of the New York Rangers in the National Hockey League, was asked to name the team he would pick if a handsome cash prize was at stake. Here's what Patrick had to say:

"Well, I'd get me a goalie first, and I guess I'd get Buck Gardiner of Chicago. Yes, I'd put Chuck in the nets. Then I'd take Eddie Shore, Boston, and Ching Johnson, New York. For my forwards I'd pick Bill Cook of the Rangers and Rudy Northcott of the Montreal Maroons. Howie Morenz, Montreal, I'd get for my center. With a team like that I'd start spending some of the $50,000 before the tournament opened."

What would his all-star team have been asked? "What would it have?" You mean what wouldn't it have. That'd be a whole lot easier to answer. A team with Gardiner, Shore, Johnson, Cook, Northcott and Morenz, you see, have everything—speed, brains, power and enough color to paint a barn. Would he mind having a guess as to who would be the standout man on such a six-star outfit?

"I guess Bill Cook would be. In my opinion he's the greatest player in the game to-day and one of the finest players of all time. He does everything and does it to perfection—pass, shoot, check and what have you. The man takes Bill makes over a season's play can be counted on the fingers of one hand. He's not only a great forward—he's a swell defence man as well. You've noticed, I guess, that the Rangers are short a man usually assign Bill to defence work. I guess he'll play defence regularly when his legs slow him up."

The Coast League will then state just how it feels towards the propositions made at yesterday evening's gathering.

During the present session there has also been friction between the L.F.A. and the provincial association, which resulted in the local members turning in their resignations. Matters were finally patched up on the condition that the B.C.F.A. aid the L.F.A. in securing a separate charter for the D.F.A. for Vancouver Island. The question of this charter will also be discussed with Davidson this evening.

Vancouver, March 14.—After sitting for three hours behind closed doors in the Hotel Georgia yesterday evening, officials of the British Columbia Football Association and the Pacific Coast Football League announced to the press that they had nothing tangible to announce as a result of the meeting called in an effort to heal the breach between the two bodies. ## GOLDEN GLOVES TOURNEY ENDS

Amateur Fighters Battle Before 19,824 Fans at Madison Square Garden

New York, March 14.—Lambasting heavyweights touched off the first of a five-day flat-carnival yesterday evening in the seventh annual golden gloves tournament of The Daily News, fought before a crowd of 19,824 that jammed the big battleground for the annual festival of the amateur warriors.

Higher education failed to prevail as Wintzup, Rutherford, twenty-eight-year-old assistant crew coach at Princeton, defeated a former champion of John Rutherford, last year's "champion," lost the climax of the evening, the open heavyweight championship, to a high school student, Steve Dudas.

Rutherford, like his brother, a prominent carman at Princeton, had lost, and he was on young Dudas, but the high school boy floored him in the second round and gave him a drubbing to win the decision.

Another student, A. Wale, New York University, held up the collegiate end in the sub-novice heavyweight final, by knocking out Jack Elson, farmer boy, in the third round.

The youngsters fought in eight divisions, open and sub-novice for the annual awards of diamond-studded golden gloves with a trip to Chicago, and a battle with the winners of the Chicago Tribune tournament, as added incentive.

Boston Cubs Take Game With Quebec

Boston, March 14.—Boston Cubs, following the same set by their big brothers, the Bruins, continued their winning ways yesterday evening by outplaying the Quebec Beavers here 6 to 2.

The game, which could not alter the league standing of either club, was not affected by its unimportance, and lacked none of the heat and fervor of a playoff tussle.

Buckley got two of Boston's goals, and Jervis, Benson, Cook and Lane the others. Clague and Ward were the Quebec snipers.

WICHITA JAYS BEATEN. Kansas City, March 14.—Wichita Blue Jays were eliminated as American Hockey Association championship play-off contenders when Kansas City Platers defeated them 8 to 1 yesterday evening.

FIGHT TO DRAW. London, March 14.—Don McCorkindale, South African heavyweight champion, and Walter Neusel, the German, fought twelve hard rounds to a draw here yesterday evening.

Senior Men's Teams Throughout Dominion Seek National Championship

U.B.C. Or Victoria Blue Ribbons Are Expected To Represent This Province

Toronto, March 14.—True to form as usual, basketball big shots across Canada are hearing the play-off stage, primed for inter-provincial combat that will produce the Dominion's 1933 senior champion.

The past-performance chart counts for more in basketball than in most games and such famous squads as Winnipeg: Toller, defending champions, Raymond Union Jacks and University of British Columbia in the west, St. Catharines Grads, Windsor Alumni Grads, Toronto West End Y.M.C.A. and Saint John Trojans in the east hold favored positions.

Tollers, again senior champions of Manitoba, have only to defeat the province's intermediate titlists, Winnipeg Free Press or the "B" series champions, University of Manitoba, to qualify for play-downs.

It will be the University of British Columbia or the Victoria Blue Ribbons in the far west, and Raymond in Alberta, unless surprising upsets occur. Varsity defeated Vancouver Red and Whites 49 to 12 in the first of a best-of-three series for the mainland title. If they go on to win the series, they will meet the Blue Ribbons in a final.

Qualified finalists in Alberta, Raymond, defending champs, and University of Alberta, in Saskatchewan Regina Capitals, leading the southern schedule, are considered likely winners.

STRONG OPPOSITION. Ontario's title may fall to Windsor Alumni, defending champs, but the shifty team from the border must first wade through a formidable collection—perhaps Toronto West End Y.M.C.A. or Toronto Lizzies, just as likely St. Catharines Grads, or Hamilton.

Notre Dame de Grace of Montreal hold the whip hand in Quebec, waiting the result of a series between Sun Life and Nationals. They meet winners of this series in the provincial final, then play Ottawa Champions. Five teams are still in the chase in Ottawa—Y.M.C.A., Kiwanis, Diamonds, Britannias and Y.M.R.A.

Acadia University and Halifax Wanderers will decide the Nova Scotia championship, but the Maritimes chief hope for a Canadian title rests with Saint John Trojans, who were beaten in the Dominion finals last spring by Tollers.

Brandon Capture Junior Ice Title

Winnipeg, March 14.—Brandon Native Sons yesterday evening overcame a two-goal deficit in the second of a two-game series to defeat Winnipeg 5 to 1, and take the Manitoba junior hockey title by winning the round 6 to 4. Winnipeg won the first game last Saturday 3 to 1.

Los Angeles Wins Game With Chicago. Los Angeles, Cal., March 14.—Orville Mobler, former U.S.C. football star, banged out a double in the ninth inning yesterday to drive in two runs that gave the Los Angeles Pacific Coast League team a 10 to 6 decision over the Chicago Cubs.

Mobler was somewhat nervous in the field and made three bobbles at shortstop, but he had two hits out of five tries.

Harvey Jackson and Paul Haynes Now Tied For Canadian Division Lead

Montreal, March 14.—Shaking off the youngsters who were crowding upon his heels, Bill Cook of the New York Rangers to-day was head and shoulders ahead of all opposition in the race for National Hockey League point-scoring honors.

Not only has Cook a lead of eight points in goals and assists combined, he has also scored more goals than any other player. The right-winger of the Canadian Press all-star team took the lead in goals scored Sunday night, when he ran in four counters against the New York Rangers.

Rarely do the National League lists show the same player leading in both goals and total points, but Cook has achieved that eminence through twenty-five goals, twenty-two assists, and forty-seven assists.

TIE FOR SECOND. Harvey Boucher Jackson, left-winger of the Toronto Leafs, who has been coming along fast in the closing stages of the race, has eventually tied Paul Haynes, young Montreal Maroon centre, for second place in the league, each with thirty-nine points. Jackson has most goals in the Canadian division, twenty-four, only one less than Cook.

Another honor went to the Rangers for Frankie Boucher, selected as "center" built up a lead over the entire field in the "assist" column. He has made plays for goals twenty-seven times, against twenty-five for Eddie Shore, Boston, and twenty-three for the Montreal Canadiens.

RUTH STILL ON OUTSIDE

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 14.—Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees, says he will not compromise in the salary dispute with Babe Ruth, his star slugger, and Ruth insists he will not sign for the $50,000 offered by the club owner.

This means no progress has been made in settling the amount to be paid the Babe during 1933, although he and Colonel Ruppert were closed for ten minutes prior to the Yankees' workout here yesterday.

Ruth has dropped his demands from $62,500 to $60,000 for one season, but Ruppert appeared to be in no frame of mind to meet these terms. He says $60,000 is the top offer that Ruth can expect this year.

M.C.C. PLAYERS ENGAGE IN DRAW

Adelaide, Australia, March 14.—The exhibition cricket match between the visiting English M.C.C. and South Australia ended to-day in a draw. The scores: M.C.C., 299 and 371 for eight; South Australia, 181 and 313 for eight.

Nitschke scored a fine eighty-seven for Australia in just under three hours. The match was a close-run thing, with the M.C.C. leading in a fifty-three-minute innings, including one six and eight fours. He was still in when play was closed.

Bowen took four wickets for ninety-five runs.

Important Rugby Games Will Be Played Saturday

Senior B Play-off And Cowichan Cup Matches Scheduled

College and J.B.A.A. Second Division Squad to Clash For City Title

Sailors Will Meet Canadian Scottish

Nanaimo Mosquitos to Play Fifth Brigade; Bays Seniors to Battle Garrison

Thirsting for battle all the more because of their enforced lay-off last week, Victoria College and James Bay Athletic Association senior B rugby squads will furnish the feature in Saturday's rugby clashes as teams carry on in the second round of the Cowichan Cup knockout series. Besides deciding which squad will continue in the new schedule the students and rowing club's second fifteen will go to Vancouver to represent Victoria in the provincial second division championship for the Province Cup.

In other games which promise plenty of activity, the army and navy will come together with the Canadian Soccer Union in a match at the Victoria Athletic Association's first team will run up against the Garrison and the Fifth Brigade will tackle the Nanaimo Mosquitos in the only fixture in which an out of town club will perform. Two intermediate games will also be provided for those who like to watch the younger talent.

POSTPONED LAST WEEK
Last Saturday Victoria College took one end of Oak Bay Park field while the J.B.A.A. worked out the other. A big crowd gathered to watch the clash.

School Football Series to Start

To-morrow afternoon the annual Fragments of Cup football series to determine the interdistrict school champion will start at the Oak Bay Park, when Oak Bay will meet Saanich. The second game will be played Friday with Victoria opposing Esquimalt. The final will be staged on March 24. All fixtures start at 3.30 o'clock.

of the second division, but the referee looked the ground over and called the game off.

The same teams will be out for their battle this Saturday. It looks as if the fixture will claim major interest. Victors in the first round will be meeting when the Navy stacks up against the Canadian Scottish. The sailors took the measure of the Nanaimo Hornets in a match two weeks ago at the Royal Athletic Park, while the Scots sent the Wanderers down to defeat in the other fixture that day. It should be a good match, with the team enjoying the advantage of having several of their old stars back on the line-up.

BAYS FAVORED
From their showing in the senior league, the Bays first fifteen is not expected to find much trouble in overcoming the Garrison. The troops have played hard games during the year but are hardly expected to be able to match the speed and trickiness of their veteran opponents.

Doug Roberts' Fifth Brigade boys should be able to take the measure of the Nanaimo Mosquitos. The Coal City team is very young. The Gunners have shown a consistent improvement during the year and will field a strong team for the encounter.

Dates for other important games in the near future were announced by J. E. Reichen following the Rugby Union meeting in Vancouver on Saturday. The next McKechnie Cup fixture is slated for Vancouver next week, when the Mainlanders will play Varsity. On Easter Monday, April 17, Vancouver is scheduled to come here. If Vancouver wins its next two games a play-off will be necessitated against Victoria.

On March 25, Victoria's senior B champions, to be named Saturday, are scheduled to play Ex-Techs in Vancouver for the provincial laurels.

Wheat Fractionally Lower In spite of New York Support

Canadian Press
 Winnipeg, March 14.—In spite of some support from New York supporters on the down scale, weakness at Liverpool and general lack of any strong backing let wheat prices slip fractionally lower on the grain exchange to-day and the close was 1/2 cent lower.

May closed at 50 1/2, July at 51 1/2 and October 53 1/2.

Pressure was not heavy but the selling persisted and the market had great difficulty in absorbing wheat. Exporters expressed the hope shipments abroad would be resumed within a few days as the exchange situation improved.

Cheap prices in the Argentine, together with the fact that Canadian wheat was temporarily off the export market last week, have enabled Argentina to secure a moderate amount of business, even with the duty to pay in the United Kingdom.

Demand for the various grades of cash wheat and coarse grains was dominant to-day and offerings of all grades were light. Spreads generally remained unchanged and no sales of any account were reported.

Is a Woman Happier When She Sacrifices Her Own Career to Her Husband's? — Cruel Effect of Depression on Engaged Couples

DEAR MISS DIX—In an article in a magazine about three months ago Greta Garbo writes: "Personally, I should hate to have my husband lose his identity to such an extent as to be known as Mr. Greta Garbo. Rather than that, I should want to retire from the screen altogether and forget that I had ever been Greta Garbo."

What do you think of the sentiments expressed in this paragraph? A MOVIE FAN.

Answer—I think Miss Garbo expressed the feeling of the great majority of even famous women. I think that almost all women would rather be married to a successful man than to be successful themselves.

Of course, there are exceptions to this rule. There are self-centred women, hungry for applause, greedy for the spotlight, who want all the laurels for themselves and who would not be willing even to share them with a husband, still less to shine in his reflected glory, but the great majority of women would rather that their husbands were famous than that they themselves were.

This is because not only does every woman desire to look up to her husband, but she wants every one else to do so, too, and so it puts her as well as him in an awkward position when she is the one who holds the centre of the stage.

Nor does this reversing of the ordinary roles of the sexes make for marital happiness. Perhaps it is because we are so bound by the traditions of the past that makes it such a bitter thing for a husband to play second fiddle to his wife and sink his identity in hers, but the fact remains that few men love their wives well enough to forgive their wives succeeding better than they do, and that the deadliest insult you can offer a man is to call him Mrs. Mary Smith, no matter how eminent Mary may be.

A man may enjoy the social prestige his wife's achievements give him. He may live luxuriously on the money she earns. But in his heart he resents her being the one who is in the public eye and gets the public acclaim, and he gets fighting mad when any one intimates that he is just the husband of his wife.

I have known many women who sacrificed themselves to their husbands' careers and who spent their lives building up their husbands' renown, and who were content just to be a foil to their husbands' greatness, but I have only known two famous women whose husbands gave up their own careers in order to promote the success of their wives.

What the highly gifted woman is to do under the circumstances is not clear. She may marry a man who is a successful business or professional man and who is eminent in his own line, but whose calling is not spectacular, while hers is. His achievements and coming and goings are not of interest to the general public, while hers are. So she gets the headlines and the front page while he remains obscure and is only known to people at large as the husband of the famous motion-picture star or actress or writer.

Nor does she seem to fare better if she marries a man who is also much publicized because there springs up a rivalry between them as to which one gets the most publicity. Few marriages among the Hollywood stars have survived this grueling test, and it is on record in the divorce case between two famous actors that the husband beat his wife's lovely head against the wall of their dressing-room if she got more curtain calls than he did. And what is not Ann Harding who recently divorced her husband because she felt that her fame so overshadowed his that he could never win the recognition to which he was entitled as long as he was handicapped by being her husband?

Doubtless, we shall have to wait for the millennium, when there will be no jealousy and no spotlight, before this problem is solved. Certainly men will have to be born again and completely made over before they are willing to be the tail to their wives' kites and fall to resent being called Mr. Mary Smith.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am twenty-seven years of age and my fiancé is thirty. We love each other desperately, but he has been out of work for two years and the future looks so unpromising. He is a fine engineer, but there is just no work in his line. We cannot go places together because of the money problem unless I foot the bill, and he does not like that. He is getting shabby and seedy and losing heart, and what are we to do?

Answer—Hundreds of letters like this come to my desk and I could weep my eyes out over every one of them. For it is so cruel a thing that love's young dream should be blighted by the sordid lack of money. One of the saddest phases of the depression has been that it has kept so many young couples from marrying, that it has brought to naught the fond hopes of so many lovers who had been striving and saving and looking forward to an early wedding day, and who have had all of their happy plans smashed into nothingness by the man losing his job and failing to find another. In the wreck of this panic have gone down the hopes of a million girls, and blocks and blocks of little white cottages with green blinds and flowers and vines that engaged couples build in their imaginations.

I wish that I could say something that would be of comfort to these heartick young people who are starving for the happiness they crave as they could be starving for bread, but there is small comfort in words for those who yearn for the reality. I can only urge them to hold on to their courage with both hands and give way to despair, not to lose hope. For as long as we can keep our morale we are unbeaten, but when that is gone we are sunk.

And I can only urge them not to quit planning their lives together. Not to give up building and rebuilding their house of dreams. Cling to that as to a lifebuoy and it will keep you afloat when the storm threatens to engulf you. There were many dark years in my own life when I kept myself alive by building castles in Spain, at which I am a gifted architect. At the time there did not seem the remotest prospect of my ever living in even the smallest room of one of them, but time works miracles and I have lived to see more than one of my dreams come true.

It is hard to hope when all the circumstances about you make optimism seem a mockery, but the blackest storm ends in time. The dawn never fails to follow the night. The sun will shine again. The depression will be over as other panics have been over and somehow, some way, we shall work back to sanity and peace and plenty again.

And, if there is comfort in thinking that things might be worse, these lovers, who are breaking their hearts because they have to defer their marriage for a while, may well thank God that they are not in the position of those husbands and wives where the men are out of work, and where there are little children crying for food that their parents cannot give them.

DEAR MISS DIX—A brilliant young lawyer is in love with a girl who is pretty enough and of good character, but she is absolutely dumb, cannot carry on an intelligent conversation and has never read a book in her life. Will they be happy if they marry?

Answer—Not a chance. I should say. She will bore him to death and be a handicap to him in his profession.

MENTAL HOME

GUARD SLAIN

Canadian Press

Whitby, Ont., March 13—Cyril Ethelbert Rich, an attendant at the Ontario Hospital here, was killed by a patient in No. 14 cottage at the hospital late yesterday evening.

Rich was slain in the bathroom of the cottage. It was said his attacker had been in the institution for some years.

Because there were no eyewitnesses of the tragedy, hospital officials have been unable to ascertain what led up to Rich's death. It is probable only meagre circumstances will be known when an inquest is held.

First intimation of the tragedy came when one of the other patients went into the bathroom and found Rich lying on the floor with the assailant, a foreigner, also in the room.

Lode-gold claims were worked in the Cariboo district of British Columbia as long ago as 1878, though it was the discovery of rich placer deposits that gave the Cariboo its fame in the annals of gold mining in Canada.

YUKON PIONEER DIES IN CRASH

J. Wilson and A. Yeats Perish
in Alberta When Car Skids
on Icy Bridge Approach

Calgary, March 14.—Investigation swung under way to-day into the deaths of John J. Wilson, pioneer of Alaska and the Yukon, and Alexander Yeats, Calgary contractor, fatally injured at the Arrowwood Creek Bridge, twenty miles east of High River, Alta., where William Gray, Calgary, truck driver, was fatally injured twenty-four hours before them.

No inquest was ordered into the death of Gray, who succumbed in a hospital here Sunday evening to injuries received when his automobile skidded on the icy approach to the bridge and crashed against the steel structure. His death was declared accidental.

Dr. G. M. Carson, Vulcan, coroner, ordered an inquest into the deaths of Wilson and Yeats, who died a few minutes after their car had skidded on the same icy stretch at Gray's car, missed the bridge and plunged fifteen feet to the creek bed late yesterday. The bodies are at a High River funeral home, and the inquest will probably be opened late to-day at High River.

For twenty years a member of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Wilson was widely known among pioneers of the gold rush to the Arctic rim. He was active in the affairs of the Alaska Pioneers and Sourdoughs' Association and became president of its successor, the Arctic Brotherhood, at the convention of the Northern Pioneers here last July.

Special to The Times
Nanaimo, March 14.—The City Council last night announced further reduction in all salaries paid city employees. Daily wage employees will be reduced 25 cents per day. The mayor's salary will be reduced to $800 per annum, and each alderman's salary to $250.

An unemployed delegation waited on the council to discuss alleged discrimination against James Reid and J. Patterson, who had been struck off the employment list. After hearing the delegates, the council decided not to reconsider the case, Alderman Kerr stating the next offenders would not be treated so lightly.

Single unemployed men resident in the city asked for an additional allowance of $2.50 for clothing, which they said was being allowed by the government to outside single men. Mayor Barclay said he had written the government asking directions but had received no reply.

R.C.M.P. MEN DISCIPLINED

Found in Halifax Speakeasy
When Another Detachment of Force Makes Raid

Canadian Press
Halifax, March 14.—The fact that several members of a Mounted Police detachment were found in a Halifax Speakeasy when the place was raided a week ago by Constable Maynard Black came out in police court here yesterday. Constable Black said they had been disciplined.

The matter came up when G. R. Ramsey, acting for the defendant in the case, who is charged with keeping liquor for sale illegally, asked the officer whether he had recognized anyone else there.

"Yes, some members of the R.C.M.P. were there," Black replied. "They were not members of my own detachment. They have been prosecuted by Royal Canadian Mounted Police authorities and fined," he added.

No further light was thrown on the case and identities of constables concerned was not learned.
